graph BT; A["mainwindow.cpp"] --> B["mainwindow.h"]; B --> C["ainmainwindow.h"]

The diagram illustrates a file dependency chain. It consists of three rectangular boxes arranged vertically. The bottom box (white) contains the path to mainwindow.cpp. A blue arrow points from this box to the middle box (white), which contains the path to mainwindow.h. Another blue arrow points from the middle box to the top box (gray), which contains the path to ainmainwindow.h.
